

A Family Affair: Hereditary Breast Cancer and You

With you, for you.

Living Beyond Breast Cancer

LBBC connects people with trusted breast cancer information and a community of support. Visit LBBC.ORG to learn about:

- Educational brochures, such as the Guide to Understanding Genetics and Family Risk, Guide to Understanding Triple-Negative Breast Cancer and Breast Cancer inFocus: Breast Cancer in Men
- Online resources on hereditary breast cancer and genetic testing, at lbbc.org/topics-types-breast-cancer/hereditary
- Interactive programs, such as the “What You Should Know About Genetic Testing” webinar

Basser Center for BRCA

The Basser Center for BRCA at Penn Medicine’s Abramson Cancer Center is the first and only comprehensive center solely devoted to funding research across the globe, educating providers and patients, and advancing care for individuals with BRCA gene mutations. Visit basser.org to learn about:

- What it means to have a BRCA mutation and how you can manage your cancer risk
- The innovative research projects that we fund, which have the potential to transform how we treat and prevent BRCA-related cancers

FORCE

FORCE improves the lives of individuals and families affected by hereditary breast, ovarian and related cancers. Visit facingourrisk.org to learn about:

- Obtaining personalized support with our Peer Navigation Program
- Attending our Joining FORCEs Conference, June 8-10, 2017, Orlando, Florida

Male Breast Cancer Coalition

MBCC, a not-for-profit patient advocacy organization, brings everyone together to educate the world about male breast cancer. Visit malebreastcancercoalition.org to:

- Learn how no man will ever feel alone when he hears the words, “You have breast cancer”
- Read stories from men with breast cancer around the globe

Triple Negative Breast Cancer Foundation

TNBCF strives to be a credible source for triple-negative breast cancer information, a catalyst for science and patient advocacy groups, and a caring community with meaningful services for patients and their families. Visit tnbcfoundation.org to learn how we:

- Ignite interest in the study of TNBC among researchers, physicians, educators and scientists
- Support professionals seeking to identify the cause(s) of TNBC and to discover new and effective treatment options
- Increase public awareness and support of this subtype of breast cancer

Rocky Mountain Cancer Centers

RMCC is Colorado’s largest and most comprehensive provider of cancer care with 53 physicians treating patients in 19 community-based locations across the state. We are united in healing with The US Oncology Network, one of the nation’s largest networks of integrated community-based oncology practices dedicated to advancing high-quality, evidence-based patient care. Visit RockyMountainCancerCenters.com.

Sharsheret

Sharsheret supports young Jewish women and families facing breast cancer at every stage—before, during and after diagnosis. Visit sharsheret.org to learn about our:

- National Peer Support Network
- Genetic Counseling Service and Family Genetics Conference Calls

This program is made possible by the sponsorship of

